DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Due to the Argument filed on 11 March 2005, the following restriction is required since there are different species clearly addressing in these claims.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

A. The species of First embodiment drawn to a manufacturing method for a liquid crystal device comprising the steps of cleaning the nozzle using the liquid crystal; and arranging at least a part of the liquid crystal used for cleaning on the first substrate.

B. The species of Second embodiment drawn to a manufacturing method for a liquid crystal device comprising the steps of cleaning the nozzle using the liquid material made an orientation film or protection film (not made from liquid crystal); and arranging at least a part of the liquid material made an orientation film or protection film (not made from liquid crystal) used for cleaning on the first substrate.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, there is no generic claim.

Art Unit: 2871

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims and any drawings readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement is traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to HOAN C. NGUYEN whose telephone number is (571)
